

Dear WIN Learning Partners,

Our hope is that you are safe and following the recommended guidelines of social distancing while, at the same time, staying positive. We are doing our very best to continue to provide you with the quality of service and support that you have come to expect and that is so important to us. Our business is not 'as usual,' but our drive and determination are strong as we ensure our employees are safe and that our solutions are available to you.

Our WIN Learning team will be available remotely and online to answer any support or product needs or to chat with you about ways to engage your learners and job seekers.

Now is not the time to self-promote or bait and switch with vendor promotions. We want to help you stay connected and engaged and have the tools and resources that make your day-to-day work fruitful and engaging. This is why we have worked with our friends and partners to curate the best FREE resources and create the @HOME Resource Site for Learners and Leaders. Our goal is that these resources will help you stay connected and support you in having productive virtual engagements.

The link can be found at: <https://www.winlearning.com/win-at-home-resources>

We hope you enjoy these resources and that they prove useful as you balance all that is going on in your day. Our team and families have tested them out and they've been a big hit! Here you will find resources that help you with everything from working virtually to coping with fear and stress. These resources and strategies come directly from the WIN team and our partners. If you find something that works for you, please share it widely.

In 2020, we embraced a mantra of WIN BIG! (BOLD. INTENTIONAL. GROWTH MINDSET.)

The idea was to further our efforts in preparing learners everywhere for career success. While we are definitely living in unprecedented times, we know that we will get through this together, especially if we apply this same mantra and:

- be BOLD in our efforts to contain the situation;
- be INTENTIONAL about how we go about our lives and work; and
- have a GROWTH MINDSET about what we can do to lift each other up.

As COVID-19 continues to spread, know that our best efforts happen when we work together and lift each other up. Together we will get through this and together we will be stronger. On behalf of our WIN Learning team, thank you for your continued partnership and trust. Stay safe, stay home, and stay positive.

Better Together,

Teresa Chasteen, CEO
